Proven Success.

CEOs, senior management, middle management and members of the supervisory board are duty bound - even more than they are already legally obliged to - to take precautionary measures against white-collar crime, committed by company insiders or outsiders.

Prevent AG successfully counteracts white-collar crime with concepts and measures for prevention and intervention. In individually assembled teams criminalists, lawyers, economists, political scientists, sociologists and psychologists work. Thus Prevent extensively protects you in a serious, discreet and efficient way against individual, structural and organized white-collar crime.

Our continuous growth is evidence of our successful performance - locally, regionally and globally.
